Disclaimer: Millerstreet Photography will make every effort to capture as many unique and exacting photos of the athlete and/or their event as possible. On some occasions, it is entirely possible that no one specific image will stand out, due in fact to the very nature of the sport, the athletes' movement, facial expression, and/or body position, all of which are almost always in constant and sometimes unpredictable movement. Millerstreet Photography does not offer refunds should the client feel that specific photos do not meet the client's expectation of quality.
